

April 20, 2016

- The Mattress Factory to connect middle school students on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Mattress Factory to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $30,000
- The Consortium for Public Education to support a teacher-led professional development opportunity for Northside educators - $6,500
- Bike Pittsburgh to support “Open Streets” on Pittsburgh’s Northside to further tourism and fun, healthy activities for Northsiders - $30,000
- Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh to connect every third grade student on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Carnegie Library to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $40,000
- City of Asylum to support a national writers’ conference in Pittsburgh that will also highlight the Northside - $5,000
- Community College of Allegheny County to undertake creation of a new Early Childhood STEM Center at CCAC on the Northside - $25,000
- East Allegheny Community Council to support neighborhood outreach activities on the Northside that are entertaining, family-friendly and foster economic and community development - $5,000
- GTECH Strategies to further develop a trail system connecting the neighborhoods of the Northside - $50,000
- Grow Pittsburgh to support a community gardening program in the Northview Heights neighborhood - $35,000
- Light of Life Ministries to support a merger of Northside service providers to enhance efficiency and effectiveness - $20,000
- Neighborhood Allies to assist struggling individuals and families through support of a Financial Opportunity Center on the Northside - $25,000
- Northside Community Development Fund to pilot a façade enhancement program as a business revitalization strategy in Northside business districts - $20,000
- Pittsburgh Leadership Foundation to support leadership development for Northside executives by encouraging both personal and organizational capacity to grow, thrive and deliver excellent programs in the community - $5,000
- Pittsburgh Urban Leadership Service Experience (PULSE) to support a Northside-based expansion project to build capacity in not-for-profits through service leadership and volunteerism - $25,000
- The Sprout Fund to implement a grant program on the Northside to encourage neighborhood and citizen participation in a unified vision for community improvement - $200,000
- United Methodist Church Union to support a summer feeding program for underserved youth in the Northview Heights section of the Northside - $10,000
- United Way of Allegheny County to support a stipend-based program to encourage community participation in One Northside education efforts - $147,150
- University of Pittsburgh, Joseph M. Katz College of Business Administration to support a partnership between Pitt and the One Northside initiative to enable business student participation in community initiatives - $12,000
- Urban Impact Foundation to support outreach to Northside students as they transition to college or career opportunities - $25,000

February 1, 2016

BMe to empower young men of color on Pittsburgh's Northside to become leaders in a community-driven strategy - $75,000

December 11, 2015

- Carnegie Institute/Andy Warhol Museum to connect middle school students on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Warhol Museum to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $30,000
- Northside Coalition for Fair Housing to further a pilot program to divert targeted young people in Northside housing communities away from criminal activity to opportunities for a better life - $75,000
- North Side Cultural Collaborative and Northside/ Northshore Chamber of Commerce to further an initiative that works closely with the business community to engage Northside employers with the hope of improving employment opportunities for young people of the Northside - $21,000
- Radiant Hall to support a residency program for working artists on Pittsburgh's Northside as a strategy to expand the creative industries - $30,000

September 11, 2015

- National Aviary Pittsburgh to connect each second-grade student on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Aviary to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $40,000
- Children's Museum of Pittsburgh to connect every first grader on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Children's Museum to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $22,000
- Carnegie Science Center to connect every fourth grader on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Science Center to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $40,000
- Door Campaign (Poise Foundation as fiscal intermediary) to support an innovative STEM-based curriculum to advance Aquaponics on the Northside of Pittsburgh - $15,000
- Pittsburgh Association for the Education of Young Children (PAEYC) to support the coordination and leveraging of resources in order to develop quality early learning experience for Northside children - $30,000
- Pittsburgh Urban Leadership Service Experience (PULSE) to support research into a coordinated real estate development strategy on the Northside that insures affordable housing is always a part of the One Northside success story - $15,000
- Manchester Citizens Corporation (or other organization) to support the acquisition of a key historic building on the Northside to preserve a unique regional asset - $25,000

June 17, 2015

- Northside Leadership Conference to support planning efforts to make pedestrian and bike connections into Northside neighborhoods - $18,085
- Carnegie Mellon University to pilot an interactive database of rental properties on the Northside as a strategy to advance improved housing conditions - $25,000
- Carnegie Science Center to support the Campaign to expand this Northside institution and historic Buhl partner - $1,000,000
- Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank for support of a Northside-wide feeding program to alleviate hunger in school-aged children - $250,000
- National Math and Science Initiative to support professional development for teachers at Perry High School on the Northside - $10,000
- Pennsylvania Resources Council to lead a community-based effort to develop a Northside-focused anti-litter and recycling campaign - $108,500
- Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, Metro Urban Institute, to support One Northside outreach to houses of worship on Pittsburgh's Northside - $15,584
- Riverlife to help build capacity in this important civic organization as it endeavors to enhance Pittsburgh's riverfronts as an asset for all - $150,000 over three years
- United Methodist Church Union to support a summer feeding program for underserved youth in the Northview Heights section of the Northside - $10,000
- United Way of Allegheny County to support a coordinated system of school-based and afterschool activities on the Northside that enables young people to successfully transition into productive careers - $175,000
- Venture Outdoors for continued support of innovative recreational activities and leadership development targeting at-risk populations on the Northside - $30,000 over two years

April 15, 2015

- Adonai Center for Black Males to support continued development of a mentoring program for African American males on Pittsburgh's Northside - $15,000
- Children's Museum of Pittsburgh to support economic development and informal learning opportunities for young people while building capacity for the creative industries on Pittsburgh's Northside - $100,000
- City of Asylum to support outreach activities for the new Literacy Center on Pittsburgh's Northside which will serve as a community revitalization anchor - $100,000
- KABOOM! playground at Morrow Pittsburgh Public Elementary School in Brighton Heights on the Northside - $40,000
- Neu Kirche Contemporary Art Center to support capacity building in this new Northside-based arts and culture program as it seeks to build youth-related and community programming - $15,000
- Pittsburgh Urban Leadership Experience (PULSE) to support year two of a Northside-based expansion to build capacity in not-for-profits through service leadership and volunteerism - $25,000
- Project Destiny to acquire, improve and increase the capacity of a neighborhood-based preschool Learning Center in an underserved Northside neighborhood - $25,000

- Providence Connections to build capacity in providing services to youth in at-risk situations on the Northside - $25,000
- Riverlife to support a national search for the new leader of this key organization in the revitalization of Pittsburgh, including the North Shore - $7,500
- Trail Connections to utilize graduate students from leading local universities in order to map assets on Pittsburgh's Northside – up to an additional $75,000
- Urban Redevelopment Authority to repair and reinstall the Garden Theater sign as a tribute to neighborhood revitalization efforts - $25,000
- Urban Impact Foundation to support outreach to Northside students as they transition to college or career opportunities - $25,000

February 11, 2015

- Charm Bracelet Project from the National Aviary to connect each second-grade student on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Aviary to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $40,000
- Charm Bracelet Project from the Children's Museum of Pittsburgh to connect every first grader on the Northside with educational programs grounded in the Children's Museum to increase formal and informal learning opportunities - $40,000
- Brother's Brother Foundation to assist this Northside-based humanitarian aid organization in building capacity and identifying development opportunities - $12,000
- Northside Leadership Conference and Historic Deutschtown Development Corporation for a Program-Related Investment (PRI) to encourage economic development in a key business corridor on Pittsburgh's Northside - $300,000
- Neighborhood Allies to document Buhl's planning and outreach on the Northside as a learning tool and possible model for community development - $12,400
- Spark of Hope to assist in the purchase of a new van to support the distribution of food and furniture to needy families on Pittsburgh's Northside - $6,000
- Trail Connections to utilize graduate students from leading local universities in order to map assets on Pittsburgh's Northside - $100,000
- Urban Innovation21 to prepare two studies, one that benchmarks innovation strategies in other cities, and a second that inventories real estate availability on the Northside - $50,000

December 12, 2014

- East Allegheny Community Council to support neighborhood outreach activities on the Northside that are entertaining, family-friendly and foster economic and community development - $1,000
- The Design Center to support efforts to encourage citizen voice around the issue of affordable housing and vibrant communities on Pittsburgh's Northside ($12,000) and to develop a scenario planning tool that assists and improves community participation in neighborhood planning efforts - $38,500
- Door Campaign (Poise Foundation serving as fiscal intermediary) to support an innovative STEM-based curriculum to advance Aquaponics on the Northside of Pittsburgh - $10,000

- Gwen's Girls to support a collaborative outreach and mentoring program for at-risk middle school girls on Pittsburgh's Northside - $20,000
- Neighborhood Allies to assist struggling individuals and families with the launch and support of a Financial Opportunity Center on the Northside - $25,000
- Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy to restore Allegheny Commons fountain and surrounding landscape to its original design while incorporating best practices for modern-day use ($150,000) and to develop a watershed plan for Allegheny Commons to guide future investment and green infrastructure projects ($100,000)
- Saturday Light Brigade to continue the partnership with Northside schools to use radio and audio programs to develop communication skills in young people - $15,000

September 22, 2014

- Allegheny Historic Preservation Society to support a Northside-based musical outreach in the historic Calvary United Methodist Church - $2,000
- MGR Foundation to support Northside-based school activities that increase healthy outcomes for youth in at-risk neighborhoods - $10,000
- Attack Theatre for a challenge grant to support an interactive and immersive Northside-based artistic process with school students as a catalyst for community youth connections - $35,000
- Create Labs/Hear Me Project to provide school students on the Northside with a voice in developing a community-wide vision and plan - $81,708
- City of Asylum to support outreach activities for the new Literary Center on Pittsburgh's Northside which will serve as a community revitalization anchor - $2,500
- Leadership Pittsburgh to support leadership development in young Pittsburghers while attracting attention to an underappreciated Northside neighborhood - $14,000
- The National Aviary to build capacity along with the opportunity to raise new revenue in this Northside-based regional amenity - $25,000

June 9, 2014

- Allegheny City Society to sponsor a third year of summer concerts at the new Buhl Community Park on Pittsburgh's Northside - $3,500
- Allegheny Youth Development to assist this Northside organization in providing school-based outreach to at-risk students in grades 6 through 8 - $25,000
- Goodwill of Southwestern Pennsylvania to support the Northside Common Ministries Food Pantry in its outreach to at-risk populations - $25,000
- Junior Achievement to support financial literacy programs targeted to at-risk youth on Pittsburgh's Northside - $15,000
- La Roche College to advance STEM education for area students as well as increasing service opportunities on Pittsburgh's Northside - $75,000
- Manchester Citizens Corporation to support the predevelopment work required to acquire an 86 unit Manchester Hope VI portfolio preserving affordable housing in Manchester - $25,000
- The New Hazlett Center for the Performing Arts to support this cultural institution in conducting outreach to the Northside neighborhood in which it is located - $25,000

April 4, 2014

- KaBOOM! to build a playground at Bethany House, United Methodist Church Union, Northview Heights - $40,000
- Pittsburgh Downtown Partnership to support a Pedestrian and Vehicular Wayfinding System that encompasses the Northside, Oakland and Downtown neighborhoods - $25,000
- Department of Human Services and Providence Connections to improve access to this Northside family resource center through participation in a county-wide transportation initiative - $25,000

February 12, 2014

- GTECH Strategies to support collaboration with multiple partners on Pittsburgh's Northside to energize community revitalization through education and vacant lot reclamation - $125,000
- Neighborhood Learning Alliance for support of an afterschool program where Northside high school students mentor struggling elementary school students - $25,000
- Urban Impact Foundation to support outreach to Pittsburgh Perry High School students as they transition to college or career opportunities - $25,000

December 13, 2013

- MGR Foundation to support Northside-based activities that increase healthy outcomes for youth in at-risk neighborhoods - $6,000
- University of Pittsburgh, Office of Child Development, to support school readiness activities for Northside kindergarten students - $25,000
- Three Rivers Workforce Investment Board for preparation of a comprehensive overview of workforce assets and challenges on the Northside - $50,000

October 28, 2013

- The Design Center to support the Center's efforts on the Northside to encourage effective and attractive design and development - $100,000

September 6, 2013

Light of Life Ministries, Inc. to build capacity for this organization's outreach to at-risk populations in its new Northside-based facility - $21,000

June 28, 2013

- Artists Image Resource to build capacity in this Northside-based, artist run nonprofit printmaking studio to further a dynamic learning environment for high school students and youth - $15,000
- Allegheny City Society to sponsor the second series of summer concerts at the new Buhl Community Park on Pittsburgh's Northside - $3,200
- Bike Pittsburgh to support a public bicycle network that will bring safer streets and more biking infrastructure and tourism to Pittsburgh's Northside - $50,000
- Saturday Light Brigade to continue its partnership with Northside schools to use radio and audio programs to develop communication skills in young people - $20,000

April 24, 2013

- Moving the Lives of Kids Arts Center to support mural projects that build community spirit and skills in young people on Pittsburgh's Northside - $10,000 over two years
- Adonai Center for Black Males to support continued development of a mentoring program for African American males on Pittsburgh's Northside - $20,000
- Sarah Heinz House to build this Northside organization's capacity to track program participation while improving the experiences of the young people it serves - $15,000
- Venture Outdoors for continued support, over two years, of innovative recreational activities targeting at-risk populations on the Northside - $30,000
- YWCA Greater Pittsburgh to increase exposure of Northside students in at-risk situations to STEM education and careers - $25,000